My son has been going to Rising Stars since he was only 10 months old. He was so little when he started going there, being away from him and putting him in someone else's care was the hardest thing I ever had to do. He is 3 and half years old and even now it is hard sometimes. However, one thing that puts me at ease is knowing that he will be well looked after and the confidence that he is in the best care possible.

All the teachers at Rising Stars have been simply amazing, since my son has been in their care from understanding his needs and making sure he is comfortable and well settled.

He started in their baby room for under 2's, then moved to the middle room and recently moved to the big rooms at the age of 3 and a half. Each time he changed room his teachers made sure his transition was as smooth as possible and made sure he adjusted well. They look well after individual child's interest and work towards their growth and development which is simply great. In a short time he has been in the big room I can already see some changes in his behavior, he is acting much like a big boy and becoming more and more independent

Rising Stars is even great at celebrating special events from it being Easter, sports day, Diwali, Christmas etc. everyone comes together and make it special for all kids and their families. It's simply amazing to see your little ones perform in front of you and other parents and you can see the pride teachers take for all the kids.

Me and my husband both work full time so my son is there every day full time too, so as parents it is very important for us to know that he is well looked after. We are very glad we found Rising Stars for our son. I believe it is not just daycare centre, for him it's been home away from home. We are very pleased and blessed to have found such an amazing place for our son. Thank you everyone at Rising Stars for making it a special journey so far :)
